

A scatter plot illustrating a binary classification problem. The plot shows two classes of data points (blue and dark blue) distributed within a unit circle. The x and y axes range from -1.0 to 1.0. The blue points are mostly inside the circle, while the dark blue points are mostly outside it.